REMINDERS & ANNOUNCEMENTS

Today's webinar will be focused on general class curriculum, not on individual grades.

You will have the opportunity to set up individual appointments with each teacher today.

REMINDERS & ANNOUNCEMENTS

A trend we've seen is students logging on and disappearing without any communication. We call this "ghosting".

Prioritizing attendance and not the actual work and letter grade.

Perhaps because the office calls home when a student is marked absent?

We are asking for communication. Please let us know if you cannot be mentally present for a class.

REMINDERS & ANNOUNCEMENTS

A trend we've seen over the past few weeks is academic dishonesty.

Biology

To set up appointment please send me an email and let me know what time works for you and I will work around it.

Given the current state of the country/world the opportunity to share space with each other, learn and grow is a huge gift but it presents many challenges. This is new for everyone so having respect, gratitude, patience, forgiveness, laughter and a willingness to do your best each day knowing that it will often look different is crucial.

Communicating needs is the most important avenue to success during distance learning.

Agency- In biology our young people are encouraged to employ their own personal agency at all times. Examples of this can be:

- Telling teacher you need more time on your assignment (before it is due)
- Asking for help when you need it
- Saying “brb” in the chat when you leave the computer and saying “back” when you are back
- Sending an email before class and letting teacher know you will not be there then check google classroom and asking another young person all before you ask me what you missed
- Checking google classroom regularly. I post a summary of class after each class period.

Content- We have completed a unit called foundation and are currently working on our second unit called wholeness. We will work with subjects such as the teen brain, health, stress, and balance.
